VETANYL® INJECTABLE
* (PHENYL BUTAZONE) *

Drug Form: Strile Soluble Injection
Chemistry: Non-Steroidal, Anti-inflammatory (NSAIDs)
Composition: Each ml of drug contains 200 mg phenylbutazone

Action: phenylbutazone has analgesic, anti-inflammatory, antipyretic, and mild uricosuric properties. The proposed mechanism of action is by the inhibition of cyclooxygenase, thereby reducing prostaglandin synthesis.

Uses: sedation inflammation of osteo – muscular system such as arthritis, osteoarthritis, tendonitis, lameness, myositis in cattle, horse, dog, as an assister agent to inflammatory sedation in intervertebral disc in dogs.

Dosage Guide: for intramuscular or intravenous injection
Cattle: 9 mg/kg
Horses: 2.2 – 4.4 mg/kg ( don’t use more than 5 consecutive days)
Dog: 22 mg/kg ( use 3 consecutive days, intravenous)

Contra-indications:
- Don’t administer subcutaneous injection
- Stop treatment race horse 8 days before take part in a race

Drug interactions:
Don’t prescribe with adrenocorticoids, other NSAIDs, dipyrone, salicylate, thyroid hormones.

Storage:
Vetanyl injectable products should be stored at room temperature (15-30 °C).

Veterinary – Labeled products:
Vetanyl injectable in 50 ml vials, one vial in a package